PRESS RELEASE

Today, we have been acknowledged by the press that the major Letizia Moratti claims to be willing to take care of the files of the Primo Moroni archive and that she is willing to move them in a non-specified site of the Milan's municipality.

If the major was really even slightly interested in the survival of the Primo Moroni archive, she wouldn't have sent hundreds of policemen and militarized a whole neighbourhood to clear out the Cox 18 Squat, trying to stop a 30 years old activity and preventing the free access to the files of the Archive and of the Calusca City Light Library.

If she wasn't moved by a pure will to show her power, with an arrogance that is equal only to the ignorance and greed she has already shown too many times to possess, she would have respected Primo's decision to place the Archive there.

We repeat, therefore, that for us, relatives of Primo, the natural and only place for the Primo Moroni Archive is the Conchetta Squat and that, if this administration deceives to do something different, it will encounter our most strong opposition.

Cox 18, the Primo Moroni Archive and the Calusca City Light Library are protected and defended by the active solidarity that has been expressed by the city in these days. Don't touch them.
